Kentucky Man Sentenced for Lewd Acts in Los Angeles

A Kentucky man was sentenced yesterday to 75 years to life in state prison for committing lewd acts on an 11-year-old boy and his two younger brothers, the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office announced.

Kyle Quentin Jackson (dob 6/12/95) of Bowling Green, Kentucky was found guilty in May of forcible lewd acts upon a child under 14 and two counts of lewd acts upon a child.

Deputy District Attorney Van Ha said Jackson also was ordered today to register as a sex offender for the rest of his life.

According to court testimony, the defendant used a messaging app to pretend to be a girl and convince the victim in Los Angeles to send compromising photos on or between December 2015 and January 2016.

Once Jackson received the photos, he threatened the victim and forced him to involve his brothers, ages 9 and 2, in lewd acts, the prosecutor said. The victims' father discovered the images soon after and notified police.

Case TA140043 was investigated by the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department.
